White Coffee Purchases Coffee Division Of J&C Distributors

The White Coffee Corporation, a third generation, family-owned coffee business in Long Island City, NY that has been importing and roasting coffee for more than 60 years, announced that it has purchased the coffee account division of Lindenhurst, NY-based J&C Distributors. The purchase will increase White Coffee's business by 10 percent and help to grow White Coffee's presence in the Hispanic market. Juan Rameriz, president of J&C Distributors, a well-known wholesale distributor in the Latino market, will be working with White Coffee on maintaining existing business and establishing new relationships with clients in the New York metropolitan area.
